

A Interactive Magazine Experience

In November, your Library will be offering an exciting new service to the community – Zinio electronic magazines. With the North Richland Hills Library's Zinio subscription, our cardholders will gain free access to complete digital magazines, including full-color pictures, keyword searching, intuitive navigation, and interactive elements such as audio and video.

Library patrons will access "Zinio for Libraries" on the library website. From there, readers can choose from a collection of popular digital magazines to read online in any web browser or to download free for offline reading through a free app. Apps are available for PCs and Macs, and for most major mobile devices including iPad/iPhone, Android devices, Kindle Fire/HD, Nook HD, Windows 8 and BlackBerry Playbook. Library users can also access this magazine collection on computers in the library.

Through Zinio, we will be offering access to 84 magazines including some of the most popular titles such as Newsweek, ESPN, O! Magazine, PC World, National Geographic and Rolling Stone. A full list of titles that will be available is found on page 3 of this newsletter. Titles in the library's collection are available to all library cardholders at any time with unlimited simultaneous access. These digital magazines never expire nor need to be returned.

The Library will continue to provide print copies of popular magazines for use in the Library in addition to our new Zinio electronic magazine service. Full information and access to this new collection will be available on the Library's web site at www.library.nrhtx.com beginning in November.
